

English Curriculum Map

Our curriculum has been designed and sequenced as a narrative that takes our students on a journey to study and understand what it is to be human. Our KS3 units do not sit in isolation to one another, they overlap and allow students to use prior knowledge to develop new knowledge. There is natural interleaving of concepts, themes, characters and skills.

The KS3 narrative curriculum sequencing
Year 7	Unit 1:	Origins – Where we came from; how it all began; how we found understanding.
	Unit 2:	Epic Journeys – What we do once we have understood our place. Explore.
	Unit 3:	Love – How we feel once we have established ourselves and our surroundings.
Year 8	Unit 4:	Fear of the Unknown – What scares us once we have got things to lose.
	Unit 5:	The Fragile Mind – The impact of thinking and feeling about love and loss.
	Unit 6:	Identity – How our feelings and sense of place establish who we are.
Year 9	Unit 7:	Conflict – What we do once we feel in control, or lose control.
	Unit 8:	Dystopia – The consequences of our destructive tendencies.
	Unit 9:	Rhetoric – How we can and need to influence the decision to choose right or wrong.

This overarching concept, to explore the evolution of humankind, was derived after careful consideration and examination of our pupils' GCSE Literature and Language texts. Our GCSE Literature texts all explore human behaviour and motivations. The narrative of our curriculum teaches our students how literature and words have helped us shape our understanding of the world, one another and ourselves. The knowledge they acquire on this journey allows our students to make perceptive, insightful and unique comments about the characters and situations in their GCSE literature texts, drawing on the wide domain of knowledge they have acquired in KS3.

An example, of how our curriculum narrative supports our students from KS3 to KS4 is that by using their knowledge from Year 7 of Greek Mythology, they could equate Macbeth's unthinkable actions to opening Pandora's box: where one sinful act can destroy the moral fabric of the world. Or, with their GCSE text, A Christmas Carol, our students can draw upon knowledge from their Year 8 Fear unit to understand why the miserly Ebenezer Scrooge hoards wealth and avoids human connections: perhaps he fears that, due to the abandonment in his life, he is unlovable or even unworthy of human connection.

Woven through our curriculum, increasing the academic rigour even more, are core knowledge concepts, built on the pillars of symbolism, shape and pattern, grammar and context. These core knowledge concepts occur in every unit; they overlap and are constantly revisited, as the backbone to our curriculum.
